Governor's Award for Environmental Excellence 2017

Dear Friend,

On behalf of Governor Tom Wolf, it is with great pleasure that I invite you and your organization to apply for the 2017 Governor's Award for Environmental Excellence. Under the Governor's direction, the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has dedicated its efforts to developing environmental educational opportunities, directing our resources to watersheds in need, assisting organizations in achieving greater pollution prevention and energy efficiency, mitigating and adapting to climate change, and enhancing environmental cleanup programs statewide.

It is evident to me that teamwork and partnership foster the greatest accomplishments and I encourage all those who share this belief to submit an application to be considered for an award in 2017. This award is open to all Pennsylvania businesses, farms, government agencies, educational institutions, non-profit organizations and individuals who have created, or participated in, the development of a project that promotes environmental stewardship in the state. We would like to recognize those leaders who have transformed environmental challenges into opportunities within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

By nominating yourself, your organization, or an individual or organization you know, you can help to display the many ways citizens and businesses are making Pennsylvania the leader in environmental protection. I am certain that the 2017 awards will showcase those individuals and organizations that have played an integral part in forging a new direction and a new environmental era in Pennsylvania.

For more information, please visit DEP's website at:
www.dep.pa.gov/About/Awards/EnvironmentalExcellence

We look forward to receiving your application.

Sincerely,

Patrick McDonnell
Acting Secretary

Governor's Award for Environmental Excellence 2017

Project Eligibility

The Governor's Award for Environmental Excellence is open to any Pennsylvania business, farm, government agency, educational institution, non-profit organization and individual that have created, or participated in, the development of a project that promotes environmental stewardship and economic development in the state. To be eligible for consideration, projects must have been completed between August 1, 2015 and July 31, 2016.

Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Innovative Technological Advances
Companies, individuals, or projects that contribute to environmental protection through technological advances in pollution prevention, water treatment, and energy efficiency.
- Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation
Companies, individuals, or projects that actively seek to limit, reduce, or adjust to long-term climate change through the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions and adaptation of future impacts.
- Energy Solutions
Companies, individuals, or projects that offer best service/best price options for renewable energy strategies, meet demands in the restructured electricity market and promote economic development and investment in renewable and alternative energy.
- Resource Development
Companies, individuals, or projects with measurable and direct environmental benefits that remove environmental threats, exceed environmental standards, and enhance access to domestic energy.
- Economic Opportunity
Companies, individuals, or projects that promote environmentally responsible economic development strategies, leverage public/private partnerships, and demonstrate balance between economic, social, and environmental objectives.
- Environmental Education
Companies, individuals, or projects that create communication pathways, break down barriers, foster environmental education, address environmental concerns and challenges, and create awareness for responsible environmental practices.
- Watershed Restoration
Companies, individuals or projects that display practicable engineering based on sound science, ensure future growth, and yield maximum environmental benefits for Pennsylvania's waterways. Projects demonstrate pollution reduction strategies for the Chesapeake Bay Watershed and the Potomac and Susquehanna basins.

Evaluation and Selection

Projects will be selected for awards based on the nine criteria listed below:

- 1. Protection – Projects must demonstrate, above all, a commitment to protecting the environment. Winners receiving the most points under this criterion have implemented an environmental project in the most effective manner possible with measurable and demonstrable results.
- 2. Partnership – Projects should demonstrate the involvement of employees, government officials and/or community members.
- 3. Public Service – Projects should demonstrate a commitment to the public's best interest.
- 4. Environmental Education and Outreach – Projects should teach others about environmentally responsible practices.
- 5. Pollution Prevention – Projects should achieve environmental results through other "end-of-the-pipe" methods like disposal, treatment or control technologies.
- 6. Economic Impact – Projects should be cost-effective, either minimizing costs or demonstrating a payback on investments or create or retain jobs.
- 7. Innovative Technology – Projects effectively using innovative technology or approaches will receive additional consideration.
- 8. Climate Change – Projects should consider the potential impact on reducing greenhouse gas emissions or implementing strategies to adapt to climate change.
- 9. Sustainability – Project should be implemented using sustainable practices, or should enhance sustainability in regards to consumption of food or energy, waste management, or other environmental influences.

Application and Project Summary Guidelines

Application Guidelines

Each project may submit one application. Companies with multiple facilities may submit an application for each facility. Projects that have previously received a Governor's Award for Environmental Excellence are not eligible for this award. Past winners may submit new projects for consideration. All applications must be typed in the forms provided. All applications must be submitted by email by 5 p.m. on Tuesday, January 3, 2017, to RA-EPgovenviroawards@pa.gov in order to be considered.

Project Summary Guidelines

Please complete the provided application and blank project summary form to describe your project. The project summary should be no more than 3 pages. Applicants may submit additional supporting documents (i.e., photos, graphs, charts) but limit them to no more than 3 additional pages. The summary must be clear and concise. The description should include the following:

1. Name of organization
2. A brief paragraph about your organization
3. Title of project
4. A description of the project including the characteristics, objectives, goals, benefits and outstanding attributes
5. The environmental results achieved (waste eliminated, recycled, etc.)
6. An overview of the project's commitment to the public's best interest
7. An explanation of employee, government official and community member involvement
8. An overview of any innovative technologies and approaches used to achieve results
9. An explanation of how the project provides community education on environmentally responsible practices
10. The economic impact (total project costs, potential job creation, etc.)
