POCONO MANOR

No the summir of Little Pocono Mountain, about the weather station of Pocono Summit Station, on the Delawsie, Lackswanns & Western Rallwoad, stands a group of buildings that grows larger every year. It hours up above the surrounding hills, with the round shaft of the water-tower standing out on the mountain's crest, and looking, as a visitor remarked, "like the hub of the universe."

This settlement is FOCONO MANOR, a mountain resort which in a few years has come to fill a most important place with a large circle of "Friends and their friends."

POCUNO MANOR—which includes Focus Manor Inc., the Manor Cottage and surrounding sentement, was established in 1902 as a summer resent for Friends and others of shuller tastes, who prefer comfort and references to extravage and others are surrounged as a summer resent for Friends and others of shuller tastes, who prefer comfort and references to extravagence and others of shuller tastes, who prefer comfort and references to extravagence and others of shuller tastes, who prefer comfort and references.

POCONO MANOR is in Montree County, Pennsylvania, one hundred and thirty-six miles by rail from Philadelphia, and one hundred miles from New York City. It is twenty-two miles northwest of the great Delaware Water Gap, and eighteen miles from Stroudsburg.

SURROUNDINGS—The lim and cottages are mean the center of a tract of seven hundred and filty acres, acquired for the express purpose of protecting the forest growth, the plants, birds and wild creatures, guarding the purity of the water supply, and preserving all the natural advantages. The large extent of ground belonging to the estate gives unusual opportunities for the enjoyment of nature under peculiarly delightful conditions, and free from the ordinary drawbacks and annoyances of mountain life.

Little Pecuno Mountain rises to a height of one thousand right hundred feet above tide-water. From the Inn the ground falls rapidly to the banks of the Swiftwater, three hundred feet below, on which as built Lake Minausin, an artificial lake-one of the features of Porono Manor.

During its earlier years Focosio Manor was regarded as a summer resort only; but the charms of the region in spring, fall and winter, and its remarkable healthfulness, resulted in a constantly increasing demand for accommudation before the Inn was opened in the spring and after it was closed in the fall. Even in midwinter some guests who were enclusiastic over the delights of Pocono would make up parties for a visit to the Manor. This demand has led to the building of Pocono Manor Cottage, plauned especially for use in cold weather; and Pocono Manor is now and benceforth will be open all the year round.

CLIMATE—The atmosphere of the Pocoso region is remarkable for its refreshing coolness and dryness. The records show that the temperature of this locality averages some sen degrees lower than in the city of Philadelphia.

Children's Placemed

VIEWS—From the east windows and porch of the Inn there are magnificent views of the beautiful Paradise Valley to the Delaware Water Gap, and on clear days the Shawangunk Mountains, and even the southern peaks of the Catakilla, can be dimly seen to the northeast.

Mountains as a health resort are very remarkable. The knose, porous soil and the high aktitude together give the air a peculiar dryness and purity, and the highalth air in pines and bemlocks add a soft, pungent fragrance that is indescribably refreshing. Its wonderful tonic effect is not transient, but peculiar, but permanently strengthening and healthgiving.

IIAY-FEVER—One of the great advantages of Focono is the beneficial effect of the air on persons subject to hay-fever and asthma. Many sufferers from hay-fever find themselves able to walk, ride and exercise with little or no trouble, the peculiar quality of the air apparently having a specific favorable effect on the lungs and air-passages.

Almag the Kwillerge

As the Inn is not run as a sanitarium, persons suffering from tuberculosis are requested not to apply.

There is a resident physician in the hotel.

CHILDREN—Infants and little children thrive wonderfully in Pocono air, some having gained health and strength here in a slaurt time.

WATER SUPPLY—The water is taken from the Pocono Manor Springs, near Lake Minausin, and pumped up to the large reservoir above the Inn. Its crystal clearness and remarkable purity have made it widely known.

Doctor Henry Leffmann, of Philadelphia, Pa., having czamined the water supply at Pocono Manor, reports as follows:

Rotal Solids

and remarks: "The above figures abow that the spring water is of exceptionally high purity. It is especially adapted to liberal use as a drinking water."

CAPACITY—Pocono Manor Inn accommodates two hundred guests. In plan and equipment it is new and thoroughly modern. It has steam heat, electric light, passenger elevator, hot and cold water, and thirty private and public bathrooms. The management is in experienced and capable hands, and the table is unusually excellent.

Pocono Maner Cottage stands about two bundred yards east of the Inn, on the sheltered slope leading down to Lake Minausin. It commands a fine view of the Swiftwater and Paradise Valleys. It is heated throughout, and has complete kitchen and dining-room arrangements, making it suitable for independent use when the Inn is closed.

ROADS AND AUTOMOBILES—Of the forty miles lying between Pocono Inn. and Wilkes Barre, the State Highway Department has recently converted the castern half into a beautiful parkway. As this passes through Pocono Summit, Naoral Pines, Pocono Pines Assembly Pocono Luke, Stoddartaville and Bear Creek, it offers rare opposituations for automobiling, driving and riding. The trip from Philadeliphia to Pocono Manor by automobile is one of the most delightful in this part of the country, and is becoming yearly more popular. One of the most charming routes is that by Bethlehom and through the famous Wind Gap, renowned for its beauty of scenery. The route by way of the Delaware Water Gap is also a favorite.

Ample accommodations for automobiles, carriages and horses are provided at the Inn garage and stables at reasonable rates.

AMUSEMENTS—Lake Minausin and the Swiftwater are well stocked with brook trout, and the fishing in the lake and the pools of the stream above is reserved for guests and cottagers. The other streams of the Pocono region are also famous for trout fishing.

A well-appointed nine-hole golf course, laid out by II. II. Barker, of Garden City, I. I., is maintained in the Manor property. The course, among the highest in the eastern portion of the United States, embodies a pleasing variety through its conformity to the roll mountain sides,

Pocono Streams

The Pocono Mountain Region of Pennsylvania is well known for its many scenic trout streams. From the historic Brodhead Creek water shed to the big waters of the Lehigh River, The Rod and Gun Club guides know them all. These are the rivers on which we work and play on a regular basis. With our local knowledge and many years of experience you are bound to have unique experience on our favorite waters. Year round fishing is available, but the best fishing and hatches occur from mid April to the end of June.

Enjoy walk and wade opportunities on small creeks or large freestone rivers throughout the Poconos. There are over a dozen streams, creeks and rivers within a 45 minute drive from Pocono Manor with good populations of wild and stocked trout.

Lehigh River

The Lehigh River is one of the up and coming rivers on the east coast. This once polluted river is now filled with good sized stocked and holdover trout. From the Francis Walter Dam near White Haven, down stream to the Delawar River the Lehigh has proven to be a greatishery with a diverse population of insects and forage fish. The trout and small mouth bass in this river grow fast and feed well and provide a great fight in the deep pools and fast runs.

The Lehigh is one of the few river where a drift boat can be used and is sometimes necessary to properly fish the river. Our guides have fished the Lehigl for many years and know its waters well Drift trips are available from April to October and are available for 1 or anglers. Walk/Wade fishing is available for confident waders.
